8 No. CR 08-00222 WHA

9 Plaintiff,

10
11 v.
12 LUKE D. BRUGNARA,13 Defendant. / ORDER DENYING MOTION FOR
EVIDENTIARY HEARING14
15 On behalf of defendant Luke D. Brugnara, who is now released to a half-way house as he 16 had requested, Attorney Erik Babcock has filed a motion for a further evidentiary hearing, so 17 that the undersigned judge can “declare that Luke Brugnara is not an economic danger and . . .
18 modify his bail conditions forthwith to reflect this conclusion” (Br. 1). The motion further 19 requests that defendant be released to home confinement at the Sea Cliff property, and that he be 20 “allowed to close his current transaction in Las Vegas to support his family and pay the $1.9 21 million restitution” (id. 4) (emphasis in original).22 In connection with the Form 12 proceeding, testimony under oath was taken from several 23 witnesses over the course of more than thirteen hours, including substantial testimony from 24 defendant himself (see Dkt. Nos. 275, 279, and 280). That Form 12 proceeding demonstrated by 25 clear and convincing evidence that defendant poses an economic danger to the community, based 26 on (among other things) his false representations concerning his financial ability to pay and his 27 intentions and treatment of the artwork, as illustrated by his claims that the multi-million dollar 28 artwork was a “gift” by Ms. Rose Long. This order need not and will not detail all of the evidence from the Form 12 proceeding.

1 Now, Attorney Babcock moves to revisit that proceeding and hold a new evidentiary 2 hearing, but does so without supplying a single declaration under oath to contradict the 3 testimony from the Form 12 hearing. This is a non-starter. In order to obtain the further 4 evidentiary hearing sought, Attorney Babcock must at minimum provide declarations to support
5 the grounds for reconsideration. This order further notes that there have been at least five 6 hearings on defendant's conditions of pretrial release, not counting the additional hearings before
7 the magistrate judges, and that it was Attorney Babcock who first proposed to release defendant 8 to the half-way house. The Court, with some reservations, went along with that proposal, but 9 Attorney Babcock now criticizes the very relief he previously requested (and attained).

10 The motion for an evidentiary hearing is DENIED. This, however, is without prejudice to 11 a fresh motion properly supported by declarations under oath (or declarations explaining why the 12 witnesses must be subpoenaed and will not give a declaration along with a proffer of what they 13 would be expected to say).

14 With respect to Attorney Babcock's pithy request for permitting defendant "to close his 15 current transaction in Las Vegas to support his family and pay the $1.9 million restitution," 16 Attorney Babcock is invited to explain the status of this Las Vegas transaction in detail, and to 17 propose conditions for a telephone call by defendant to allow him to "close" this transaction
18 (including provisions to protect the other side in this transaction from fraud). Attorney Babcock 19 appears to represent that all that is needed is to "close" the Las Vegas transaction, implying that 20 all of the details have been worked out, all paperwork has been done, and all that is needed now
21 is a closing ceremony. The Court's recollection from the Form 12 proceeding is to the contrary, 22 namely, that plans for a deal in Las Vegas were extremely preliminary, that not even a tentative 23 deal ever emerged, and that there is nothing in Las Vegas to close. So before permission could 24 possibly be granted to "close" any Las Vegas transaction, counsel must supply details of who is 25 involved in the deal, what the deal is, and what remains to be done to close.

26 IT IS SO ORDERED.

27 Dated: September 11, 2014.
